

5 ways Device as a Service Empowers IT

1. From repetitive tasks to strategic projects

IT managers spend 14% of their time managing device repairs or resetting passwords. Outsource these repetitive tasks can empower them to focus on strategic projects.

2. Ease budgetary burden

Simplifying the cost structure by bundling the cost of hardware, software and services in a monthly rate helps save time spent from budgeting.

3. Empower employees with the latest technologies

Providing the latest devices and upgrade enable employees to meet their business needs. DaaS enables easy tech refresh, keep internal users happy and empowered.

4. Strengthen security with device management

DaaS offers security services and software to standardize and update security policies, ensuring customers are working with newer and more secure devices.

5. Device disposal at ease

Wiping data from old devices before disposal can be a headache. DaaS handles device disposal with secure and compliant methods, free up IT managers for new initiatives.

